

Gregg Allman Band, Yours For The Asking

Every time I see you lately
You look so down and out
Tell me, won't you tell me,
What you're so worried about
Time alter time those young boys
Broke your heart in two
You aint sure if you want to play
'Cause you cant stand to lose

Who could ever blame you?
You're just looking out for your own heart
But if you ever change your mind, baby
You wont have to look to find me, no ...
Baby, Im yours for the asking
Yours for the asking

Each night I lay my head down
Hopin it wont take long,
For you know just how I feel
When you come on home
All it takes to make me smile
Is taking me by the hand.
Let the good times roll on baby...
Over and over again

Who could ever blame you?
You're just looking out for your own heart
But if you ever change your mind, baby
You won't have to look to find me, no ...
Baby, I'm yours for the asking
Yours for the asking

Who could ever blame you?
You're just looking out for your own heart
But if you ever change your mind, baby
You won't have to look to find me, no ...
Baby, I'm yours for the asking
Yours for the asking
Baby, I'm yours