

Gregorian, Sebastian

Radiate simply, the candle is burning so low for me Generate me limply, can't seem to place your name, cheri.
To rearrange all these thoughts in a moment is suicide Come to a strange place, we'll talk over old times we never spied.
Somebody called me Sebastian
Somebody called me Sebastian
Work out a rhyme, toss me the time, lay me, you're mine
And we all know, oh yeah!
You're not gonna run, babe, we only just begun, babe, to compromise Slagged in a Bowery saloon, love's a story we'll serialise.
Pale angel face; green eye-shadow, the glitter is out of sight
No courtesan could begin to decipher your beam of light.
Somebody called me Sebastian
Somebody called me Sebastian
Dance on my heart, laugh, swoop and dart, la-di-di-da, oh yeah!
