

Gretchen, Fading

Staring at my reflection I'm becoming numb
I barely recognize this thing that I've become

All alone, in the dark, feel the beating of my heart

I'm fading inside, lately; I can not seem to find my self again
I'm fading inside, lately; I can not find myself.

Buried beneath the surface, pounding in my brain
A desperate need for something I can not escape

All alone, in the dark, feel the beating of my heart

I'm fading inside, lately; I can not seem to find my self again
I'm fading inside, lately; I can not find myself.

What is wrong here, I don't belong here
Save me from myself.....

All alone, in the dark

I'm fading inside, lately; I can not seem to find my self again
I'm fading inside, lately; I can not find myself.....myself.
