

Gretchen, Know You

So many times I've waited, for you to recognize my face
But you don't seem to notice I'm alive

I want to know you --- why do you run?
I'd never hurt you --- but still you run

Your voice is music to me; I hang on every word you say
My worlds complete the moment you speak my name

I want to know you --- why do you run?
I'd never hurt you --- but still you run

Let me, love you
Please don't turn and walk away
I want to, be near you
But you're wasting time

I want to know you --- why do you run?
I'd never hurt you --- but still you run
