

Grey, Take You Off My Mind

I've got books out the ass but I don't feel like reading.
I've got movies on a list but I don't feel like seeing them.
I could call you up but not sure I have a reason.
Maybe there's something else to take you off my mind!

Changing channels till I'm bored and yet I can't stop believing.
I haven't seen them all yet the numbers are repeating.
You still come to mind so I click it like a demon.
Is there something that'll take you off my mind?

Got a lot of homework but the pages aren't turning.
You were sitting in the class and I was looking at you learning.
You may be the one but I'm the one hurting.
Is there something that could get you off my mind?

And if I go on playing, this game that is so frustrating.
I'm very sure I'm going to lose my mind.
And I don't know what I'm saying, don't know why I keep on waiting.
Just keep anticipating that you will be mine
