

Grimes, World Princess Part II

I got a big dream,
Small world in between
Me and everything I can't do
No really bad day, just ok.
I kinda think you sucked the life right out of the room

I know most likely
How I used to be a frail and silly thought in your mind
Find me unkind
You're so far behind me

But I can see something more
Than the things you try to take
Now, you've made a mistake
Don't you cry

It's mine /2x

I saw the parade, big men must convey
So I'm thinkin' out on my feet
Back at the first page,
Shut the game, for you, it ain't
Nothing else could be more complete

I know most likely
How I used to be a frail and silly thought in your mind
Call me unkind
You're so far behind me

But I can see something more
Than the things you try to take
Now, you've made a mistake
Don't you cry

It's mine /2x

In the light
In your head, in your heart, in your hiding emotion
[?]
In the light
In the head, in the heart, in your hiding emotion
[?]

But I can see something more
Than the things you try to take
Now, you've made a mistake
Don't you cry

It's mine /5x

If I stare into the darkness, I won't know where I am
I haven't seen the daylight since I started giving in My eyes are falling heavy, my feet are moving slow
