Grinspoon - Tang Lyrics

do a little bit of fkin tang try to sit down but you gotta dance all you want is just half a chance all she wants is just a fun romance i gotta pocket full of change lets get tanked a pocket full of change lets get tanked
come on lets dance sugar lets dance

i gotta lot of people that i'd like to thank suspended animation critical think tank shed a tear or maybe bust a rhyme know you love to have a real good time you can stand out near the ocean line i'll come to you and somewhere suffering second night i was kicked out of my school social no school social school social

all you want is just to have your chance all he wants is just a fun romance
i gotta pocket full of change lets get tanked
a pocket full of change lets get tanked all you want is half a chance after all is said and done your still a vision complimentary drinks to you you've found your reason and you won't hear it on the television see it on the radio you won't hear it on the television see it on the radio...
