Grits, Seriously

we mean business when we bout this we aint monotonous when we rock this we take it seriously aint no mystery we notchin one in history see its literally lyrically serious this is mind penetration through rhyme concentrated word use administration and abrasive education sixth sense illumination on reconciliation put the cross placement with the cross over placement so cautiously

i approach the mic without apostasy its costing me every proper due from fellow emcees but these be more than just rhymes and punch lines to me seriously we have no time for playing lyrically at least we don't and that's a money back guarantee cause people need more than entertainment from the industry so many lives depending on lies so too many die cause too many high and not many try to live a life beyond self chasing status and wealth using excuses how you came up for records to sell the stories you tell done been told in so many ways the only diference is your platinum shackles and iced out chains so ignorantly you keep them loving mentel slavery they wanna be free
but you ignore responsibility ignorantly you keep them loving mental slavery

yo we make an orangutan with lipstick on recite these words and sing this song no drugs or pills that i be on scratch and sniff my provolone the place im at i so belong glad to be here thank you glad you could make it aint nobody took it where we bout to take it we so serious hip skip bounce to be us my voluptuous style make you chew up my style lunitic rippin up the tile fact or fable tools of necessity a mic and a turntable plunder like a pirate that's what people are called who steal cable deal under the table with these flows we drop bombs like after eatin 3 cinnabons upon my head this mantle been put upon not the exploding kind the kind that enlighten the throne i sit upon shinning light in clear you need to get upon check the head of this nail you hit upon times a wastin don't get me wrong we at the end of this song
