

Groundation, Something More

Behold the night sky brings us a new star today
Catch it before it passes away
For all those thought wise become fools today
Rally round the table so I man can pray
Oh myself at peace, with my heart, and soul, and livity
Only to reveal finally the source of Dreams of wars, dreams of war, dreams of wars
I know Jah, oh dem thought I warrior
Oh them thought I warrior, they tought I warrior

Don't blame the lites, for what your eyes can't see
Don't blame the people who gather themselves by the shore
Seeking something more, to hang on their lives unto
If they can see the light why can't you see
The truth is not what it may seem to be
While all of them a holler at we
For so long, oh so long. Here so very long, oh so long
Oh long, oh long, oh long (2x)
Oh light of creation shine down inna this time
Only to find man who fight against man
With their holy words and holy thoughts and a
Dem a stumble pon a dis a war to come well now
Don't blame the lites, for what your eyes can't see
Don't blame the children who gather themselves by the shore
Seeking something more

Oh light of creation shine down inna this time
Only to find man who fight against man
With their holy words and holy thoughts and a
Dem a stumble pon a dis a war to come well now
Don't blame the lites, for what your eyes can't see
Don't blame the people who gather themselves by the shore
Seeking something: Now don't stamp 'pon the elders
For what is the truth I cannot see: Don't blame the children
Who gather themselves by the shore seeking something more
