

Grzegorz Skawiński, Strength To Carry On

As far as I remember it was my only goal
To be the only person who breaks down every wall

As far as I imagine it was my only dream
To climb the highest mountain man has ever seen
And now I know there ain't no easy way
To have it all not tasting blood and pain

I'm getting stronger everyday
When I have to face the wall
I blessed the day I found my way
I feel the strength to carry on

Carry On!!!

The hour glass keeps turning
I can not turn back time
How much has been unwritten
In the pages of my life
