

Guadalajara, Oh Baby

Baby are you happy, oh baby are you sad everything is going crazy everything is going mad 'Cause you are looking like a quaky volcano and I know that my words are gonna hurt you And you will break out slow

We've been travelling for a long time together on this earth, I've been looking for the right one, for my lady since my birth but also wanna hang around with my friends now, I wanna get drunk.
Party every day and party every week, baby I am in a turmoil, yes oh father I am weak and I'm going to kiss the memory of you away.

And I don't wanna remember every stupid move I made,
And I also don't wanna lament you cause baby it's too late Ill be alive

We became a daily routine we became a daily kiss and I closed my eyes in front of your behaviour
It's hard to say goodbye after all those many years
We went our seperate ways without losing any tears
But my heart wasn't made of stone
It was beating for you
