

Gui Boratto, No Turning Back

Take a chance in those wonderful words you just dont understand
I can show you the way but I know that youll never be there
All the time, all the shine of your eyes I would never forget
All I know theres no time, theres no life, there is no turning back
There is no turning back
There is no turning back

Take a chance in those wonderful words you just dont understand
I can show you the way but I know that youll never be there
All the time, all the shine of your eyes I would never forget
All I know theres no time, theres no life, there is no turning back
There is no turning back
There is no turning back
