

Guided By Voices, The Main Street Wizards

The Main Street wizards
How can you see them
And stand up to them?
And you make out all right
And do you better
To go and see them
Pretend to be them
It's true

Can you exchange the past
Nothing is made to last
Still they are coming back to you
Still they are coming back to you

The Main Street wizards
Tonight they're thinking
A formal winking
Across from afar
The mood is different
The lights are fading
The knight is waiting
For you

The most wonderful of tricks
Electricity in their picks
Still they are coming back to you
Still they are coming back to you

Can you explain the wrath
On everyone's holy path?
Still they are coming back to you
Still they are coming back to you

Still they are coming back to you
Still they are coming back to you
