Guided By Voices, Things I Will Keep

Coded ancient, the crease Unlock the timers And strike the chimers In my sleep

Grab the coat, steel the fleece From behind the curtain It will most certainly bring peace

To those with countless numbers No longer cold or hot, like Things that I will keep And hide them in my sleep

Dead even countless numbers No longer cold or hot, like Things that I will keep And hide them in my sleep

Coded ancient, oh brightness
We shall see
Loaded up and at night when
We shall flee
Not to tread through the heavy life
Sink in the dream
On the right night
You'll find her waiting

Selling things for cheap The things that I will keep
