

Gun, Seems Like I'm Losing You

I never want to be alone
Never want to be alone without you
I never did believe in much
What if all the things I'm fearing are true
And I thought I knew you well
Maybe I don't know as much as I think

Sometimes it makes no sense
Sometimes you just can't tell
Sometimes it makes me wonder

Seems like the more I give
The more I'm losing you
Seems like the more I have
The more I have to lose

They say in love there are no rules
Looking back it only stands in your way
And now you need someone to blame
I never thought I'd hear you talking that way

Says she believes in me
Says she can make me breathe
Sometimes it makes me wonder

Seems like the more I give
The more I'm losing you
Seems like you're here to stay
You're only passing through
It feels like it, you talk like it
You act like it, it feels like I'm losing you

Seems like the more I give
The more I'm losing you
Says she believes in me
Says she can make me breathe
Seems like you're here to stay
You're only passing through
I thought I knew you well
And now I'm losing you
It feels like it, you talk like it
You act like it, it feels like I'm losing you
It seems like the more I give
It feels like I'm losing you
