

Gun, The Feeling Within

Black Mark against my name
Face to face it's a crying shame
It's cutting me in two, my soul divided
It's too late to learn, don't be fooled, don't pretend
Step back at the slightest sound
Screaming in my head, I hear voices

Look at me, look in my eyes,
I can't break these chains and hide

You don't know what silence means (you can pray for me)
You don't know about shattered dream
You don't know that I can't run (you can set me free)
Set me free from the feeling within

What's lost, nothing's gained
Eye to eye in the city rain
I'm fighting in a war I can never ever win
The pain that pleasure brings leaves you cold, skin on skin
Don't speak, don't breathe a word
I'm beggin on my knees, one intention

Look at me, look in my eyes,
I can't break these chains and hide

You don't know what silence means (you can pray for me)
You don't know about shattered dream
You don't know that I can't run (you can set me free)
Set me free from the feeling within

Set me free
Believe in me, set me free

Look at me, look in my eyes,
I can't break these chains and hide

You don't know what silence means (you can pray for me)
You don't know about shattered dream
You don't know that I can't run (you can set me free)
Set me free from the feeling within
Set me free from the feeling within
(you can set me free)
Set me free from the feeling within
Set me free, I can't run no more
(you can set me free)
Set me free, set me free
Set me free from the feeling within
