

Gustav, Little Weird Grrrl

one day she found a message stuck on her poor fridge-door
'meanwhile don't jump off any bridges, stay happy, yours, 10 years old'

'stay happy, little weird grrrl'
and it said:
dreams will crash and the pain will stay rain will fall, friends fade away
but smile
the world is used to turn leaders lie, lovers cry moms and dads may die

and men will call you sweetie and make you break into tears but underneath their duties lies a whole bundle of fears mr. dow jones always tries to moderate your pride
but smile
changes will come or not at all the ones on top won't make things stop but keep your little head quite high so they can see your smile

and it said:
or die
even satellites are
and somehow you'll get used to take the wheel and drive

it will take you a while to uncover wolves in sheep's clothing who pretend to be brothers but try to keep your illusion of fusion and don't believe in solicitous fathers cause mr. dow jones always tries to moderate your pride

the ones of top won't make things stop but hold your little head quite high

they say all the puffed up things to gain their positions then they use your kindness as ammunition just to shoot you down
little grrrls to shout

you might break the rules of small print fools
but don't give a damn
'bout their 'what a mam can'
they just shoot you down
but

and kick up a row
don't you waste your time stop being kind

'cause you might rise above you might go below
you'll ride with the tide or go with the flow
but with a smile and you should break all the rules of the small print fools and not give a damn
just smile

you might get lost, used
or a little bit confused or become and rock star on jupiter or a ma in a car
but smiiiiiiiiile

mind the steps
and never give advice
unless asked
and stay happy little weird grrrl at least try to try to stay happy and smile...
