

GWAR, War Is All We Know

They came from the sun
From the east from the west all around
And so fate's die is cast
They marshaled their forces and foundus at last.
So it's come to this
The child is the destroyer
The young god comes to slay WAR

Son, kill the father for blackness is all that I crave shells explode across my hide Take me death, i am your slave
For I don't have a soul
And i don't have a heart Come then and face me but first you must suffer my wrath

HATRED OF ALL THINGS ALIVE
war is all we know they say that war is a last resort for me it's the only way I have tried reading them Poetry It suits me better to slay all that i touch seems to break in my hands then it just bursts into flames the piteous pleadings as innocents die only an odor remains

So burn the bitter butter break out our murder machines bring me my scabbard my halber, my hauberk Fetch me my enchanted greaves my walls they are melting the drugs they aren't helping it is the time for the old gods to die to arms is the only cry

War is all we know
The humans must feast on their Gods
we know it fking blows Hatred is a seed that's easy to sow buckets of blood will help it to grow and raised on high, the fetid throne Death is Fate's master, he sits all alone... the say war is all we know if only that were true
No matter how I work my schedule There's always other things that I do but excuse me now, there's a tank at the door and that slave's head just rooled 'cross the floor...
He tries to say something and that something is puke Right about then the pigs set off a nuke
war is all we know Hatred
When i said i loved war i lied it fking sucks on the losing side and speaking of which, my face is on fire!
a lightning withdraw! we quickly retire!
A flurry of carnage, my brainpan is nicked!
to my unending shame my ass just got kicked!
And as the shells fall in a relentless hail the fortress was gutted and we had to bail...

the humans must feast on thier Gods
WE KNOW IT FKING BLOWS HATRED OF ALL THINGS ALIVE
War is all we know
The humans must feast on their Gods
War is all we know.
