Come take a look inside my head! Where there used to be sharp meadows below the painted windows now there's only shadows that go where the wind goes So, please come in and welcome to my world Step inside I say! And welcome to my world Hello all you people won't you come inside Pay very close attention to me boys & amp; girls Come on all you crazy fools, just step inside We're going on a train ride through my slips and curves Whatta ya think? Please come in and welcome to my world! Step inside I say And welcome to my world
