Gypsy Kyss, Where Do You Go

Where do you go when you leave me alone Is there someone else or somewhere else You go to when you walk out the door And if words were enough Enough to hold you here I'd speak in a language that longs For love without all the fear And I need to know The road your thoughts wander on But, when you're always leaving It's hard to tell where you're coming from Where do you go, where do you go Where do you go when you leave me alone Where do you go How many times must you leave How many times until you see The longer it takes to find yourself The sooner I'm lost behind 'yourself' How much will it cost you And how much will you spend While you're walking on and on I'll break before you bend Sometimes, when I'm dreaming I dream that you tell me Tell me that you need me And that you'll never leave
