

Hades Almighty, Nighttime Endurance

.Ohh mistress of emotions night in twilight rays of grey in your embrace alone I find endurance the fragile hours set between the sundown and the dawn the beauty of the dawn so sinister yet calm stagnant I stand as I give in to you reverence fading light in a crimson glow soon the moon its rays will throw through the torn up blackened sky it's a sinery
so vast before me lie birth of night before my eyes I shiver as the sunlight dies a tarn, black mirror shine reflects the innerself of mine listen to the night sounds howling hunters wind through trees the beauty of this song is almost painful
a requiem... a moonchant like a mournful
threnody... an anthem to the night
soon to reach its height as I join to cry out all my sorrows embraced by night alone I find endurance the silence of the witchinghour like nectar to my soul alas, this beauty can not last forever or praytell
it will do when
I die
