

Hail The Villain, Swan Dive Suicide

Perfect body rotting, outside still is hiding
Theres a killer burning, creeping through my veins
Make me feel distorted, left me here a coward
For running, Im running, Im running, run
Bow down for me, bow down for me
Feel like I was meant to die but somehow stayed alive
Time that I encounter, call in my surrender
I fear that I wont ever cover up these wounds
Leave the world a sinner, see my soul grew thinner
And thinner, and smaller, the longer Im alone
The fear is so alone
The fear is so lonely
I hope it never finds me
I pray it doesnt get me
