

Halifax, Cat's Game Ending

Don't make a gamble on this song.
It doesn't apply to you.
I'm trying to pull myself together.

Believe me; that I believe in you.
Don't take this cat's game
holy and to my grave.
Everyone around me is screamin',
"it's not you it's me."

Downtown 'cuz I can't stop this train.
At first it's happening all again.
Turn me down, pullin' me apart.
For fifteen minutes alone.

Believe me; that I believe in you.
Don't take this cat's game
holy and to my grave.
Everyone around me is screamin',
"it's not you it's me."

'Cuz I know we're all alone,
and nothing's gonna stop us now.
Except sixteen stories, and we're falling faster.
You can't keep up, and I can't slow down,
for you.
We're never giving up so you can kill us all.
You can kill us all.

Believe me; that I believe in you.
Don't take this cat's game
holy and to my grave.
Everyone around me is screamin',
"it's not you it's me. "
Everyone around me is screamin',
"it's not you it's me."
Everyone around me is screamin',
"it's not you it's me."
