

Hall Kristen, Moment In A Day

i think i'll take some time get away
and do something for me i guess it's safe to say a holiday is just the thing i need and if i fly across the ocean could it take away the pain i feel peaceful for the notion but it's only for a moment in a day the seasons changed and now the flowers that once wilted are in bloom i catch the fragrance as it drifts into the windows of my room and as i float along the ceiling the curtains blow and start to fray and this is such a perfect feeling
but it's only for a moment in a day the patience of a mother turns into another shade of green a parody of danger find out what the anger really means
and if i fly across the ocean
in a day...
in a day...
