

Hall & Oates, Room To Breathe

All you want is the shadow behind me

Don't you know that it's nowhere to stand

What if I didn't call you tomorrow

Maybe you'd fall apart after that

You keep it so tight I can't stand it

There's no room for love when it's ended

So give me Room to Breathe

The choice to stay or leave

I don't know what you need

So give me Room to Breathe

If you keep in your mind there's no future

It makes now' so much lighter to bear

If you deal with it ever so loosely

You just might shake it, it might clear the air

You keep it so tight I can't stand it

There's no room for love when it's ended
