

Hall & Oates, Sometimes A Mind Changes

He heard a voice call his name
Pulling hard and telling him to make some change
He let a lot pass him by
Sacrificed his sacred fire to buy some time

To let it go sounds easy
What used to be a certainty
Is shifting with the sands of time
Sometimes a mind changes
Then another heart's got to fly away

She had a dream of family
Two by thirty
Living in love in tenderness
She let a lot pass her by
Sacrificed her sacred fire to buy some time

Letting go sounds easy
What used to be a certainty
Ain't true
Sometimes a mind changes
Then another heart's got to fly away
