

Hall & Oates, Werever would i be

When my world is turning When it's turning upside down when all I see is rain When I think the night