

Hall & Oates, Why Do Lovers Break Each Other's

Why Do Lovers Break Each Other's Hearts?

I'll never know why I don't understand

He's always saying that there's no one else

While he's doin' what hurts the most

When you tell a lie, you're always found out

And it's wrong

Use up your patience but she's back again

Crying and laughing, does she love the pain?

And when you tell a lie, you're always

found out

It's wrong