

Halo Friendlies, Look Around

look around what you see is what you get in this life 4am city slumber city sighs (hear the cries) and look around what i see is what i got wasted years wasted money wasted mind (is this mine)

and i look around and i see the sight and i hear your voice and you tell me it's alright earned it all building castles in the sand blew it all with problems that i had chasing butterflies like they carried my soul hunger pangs fill this empty space a stranger's stare is stranger than friction on a slippery slope of life's addiction tv gods won't help you when you're broke hell's angels love to see you broken
