

Halo Friendlies, Milwaukee

i met you in milwaukee in between the heat and rain i hoped that you would talk to me i hoped that you would feel the same
so i made my way to you to my surprise my heart stopped and all i felt were butterflies

its alright now youre gone its alright you were wrong its alright im growing up and my life goes on

we drove to cincinnati and wednesday on to tennessee we sang until the morning and nashville is where you kissed me
but i was subconsciously to naive you'd make your way to her when i would leave

you broke my heart into a million little pieces i have no feelings left for you to kill
