Halou, Wholeness

How can I learn to let go,
Now that you have shown
That you are strong enough,
But I am not
How can I let the world rough you around
When I'm not there,
I can't protect you
Why does life have to rob you of your
Innocence and faith
For you to be a grown up?
The only thing that gives me strength
When I am deep in doubt
Is your nature

Oh, how you damage me You never mean to Oh, how you break my heart And make me need you Oh, you can crush me Like a rose petal Oh, how you damage me You never mean to
