Hangnail, Surrender

Surrender

As I watch the week played from my memory I can't believe I let this go
The innocence is losing cover
Waiting for surrender of this tyranny
I guess you reap what you sow
And there's no shame in starting over

Chorus

It could take some time for me to find The peace that passes understanding all Can't relax when losing track Every trying moment takes its toll

Take a deep breath in and then forget about The worries they won't go away A troubled mind is seeking freedom Feel the pressure forces quickly closing in No matter what you think you know The overwhelming truth is showing

Chorus

I'm giving over everything Everything is Yours I'm giving over everything Everything is Yours

Chorus

I'm giving over everything Everything is yours

I'm giving over everything Everything is Yours You gave me breath so I could sing All I have is Yours

Repeat
