

Hangnail, Taken For Granted

Slowing down, my actions become known to me
No way no how, could I have been so blind
To see, what I've become

Take away, I never was meaning to do
And pleasing you, was all I ever wanted to
So break me down, that I might understand

(Chorus)
I know you're looking down on me
And it must hurt to see all that you see
Your love remains the same
Take for granted, everything that you have given
Never again, I won't remain the same
(End Chorus)

One more chance, though given not always received
And growing numb, to guilt is often done with ease
My conscience, what's left fades away

(Repeat Chorus)

(Repeat Chorus)
