

Hank Locklin, Before I'm Over You

I just can't get it through my head you love another now instead
Can't make myself believe we're really through
I'm walking up and down the hall talking to a silent wall
I'll lose my mind before I'm over you
I think I've almost lost my mind I think about you all the time
I'm going crazy yes I know and I don't have far to go
The way you treat me is a shame but I'll keep loving you the same
I'll lose my mind before I'm over you
