

Hank Locklin, I'm Slowly Going Out Of Your Mind

I'm slowly a going out of your mind
Lately your kisses are cold they're not the same
Little by little I've watched you change
I stand by helpless while I see all the signs I'm slowly a going out of your mind
I'm going out of the mind of you who once loved me
You who once needed me wanted me now you ignore me
How did I tell you I must have to find I'm slowly a going out of your mind

Words from your sweet lips oh how I love you
Have now become just the thing of the past
I stand by helpless knowing I lose you in time I'm slowly a going out of your mind
I'm going out of the mind...
I'm slowly a going out of your mind I'm slowly a going out of your mind
