

Hank Locklin, Longing To Hold You Again

All alone here am I so lonely I could cry cause I'm longing to hold you again

Missing you is all I do I dream the whole day through

How I'm longing to hold you again

The world is cold the world is grey you took the sunshine away

You'll never know how empty my arms have been

Till once more you're close to me as close as we can be

I'll be longing to hold you again

[piano]

How I'm longing to hold you again

[guitar]

Yes I'm longing to hold you again

The world is cold...

I'll be longing to hold you again
