

Hank Locklin, Loving Arms

Loving arms will wait for you sweet sweet dreams that won't come true
I just got to see you one more time and let these loving arms pretend you're mine
Another love won't set you free you'll never share a home with me
With loving arms and a heart so blue tonight I'll say my last goodbye to you
Loving arms must let you go loving arms will miss you so
I've just got to see you one more time and let these loving arms pretend you're mine
And let these loving arms pretend you're mine
