

Hank Locklin, Only A Fool

Only a fool could keep on loving you
If it's crazy to love you then I'm crazy cause I do
You don't care who's heart you're breaking only a fool could keep on loving you
Only a fool would cling to love when it's such a hopeless thing
Stay around to worship you knowing you don't feel the same
I don't know why I even want you you don't need me you told me so
If there's a chance that you might love me only a fool would ever let you go
Only a fool would ever let you go
