

Hank Snow, I Wish My Heart Could Talk

I wish my heart could talk to you like I do every night
When we're apart you know it's true I love you every night
You'd come running back and never leave me feeling blue
If my heart could talk to you

Ya know honey, whenever you're close enough to me
To reach out and kiss my fingertips
Then what I'm really feeling deep down in my heart
Always fails to leave my lips
Cause I plan on all the things that my heart wants to say
And then I think I'm all set for the next time I see you walk my way
But it just seems that every time you do I only make a standing start
And then darling you're gone yes you're gone again
Before these words can ever leave my heart

If my heart could talk to you you'd never go away
If my heart could talk to you forever you would stay
You'd come running back and never leave me feeling blue
If my heart could talk to you
