

Hank Snow, Nuevo Laredo

In Nuevo Laredo the moon is aglow in Nuevo Laredo in old Mexico

In Nuevo Laredo in old Mexico

The other tourists they're spending their dough

But she spends her time singing love songs you see

And everytime she sang a song she thre a kiss to me

In Nuevo Laredo the moon is aglow in Nuevo Laredo in old Mexico

In Nuevo Laredo the blue Rio Grande

Was bright in the moonlight as I held her hand

She sang me a love song the whole lovely night

We kissed and kissed and kissed and kissed until the the morning light

In Nuevo Laredo the moon is aglow in Nuevo Laredo in old Mexico

In Nuevo Laredo I found true romance

With my senorita I sang and I danced

We had a fiesta from morning till night

And then her father caught us crumble for a fight

In Nuevo Laredo I travel no more

Since her father hollered don't darken my door

But each night by moonlight I'm all happy man

You should see me swim to her across the Rio Grande

In Nuevo Laredo the moon is aglow in Nuevo Laredo in old Mexico
