

Hank Snow, The Bill Is Falling Due

I loved and laughed and had my fun
And went on to someone new
And now at last the game is done
And the bill is falling due

I took your love you gave me all
I gave nothing back to you
And now I find that I must pay
And the bill is falling due

I think I know how much I owe
Maybe more than I can pay
But the debt is mine no use to whine
For there is no other way

The dawn will soon be breaking now
And the party is all through
For all the damage I must pay
And the bill is falling due

Break (fiddle - guitar)

I think I know how much I owe
Maybe more than I can pay
But the debt is mine no use to whine
For there is no other way

The dawn will soon be breaking now
And the party is all through
For all the damage I must pay
And the bill is falling due
