

Hank Snow, Why Did You Give Me Your Love

Oh why did you give me your love dear
When it lasted only a day
Why did you teach me to love you
Only to turn me away

You promised that you would be true
Your promise was all in vain
But my heart keeps calling for you dear
Like the flowers call for the rain

Break (fiddle)

You may be sorry some day dear
That you have broken my heart
That you have cast me away dear
And fooled me from the start

Now this is my last appeal dear
I've only a word to say
Oh why did you give me your love dear
When it lasted only a day
