

Hank Thompson, Fooler A Faker

You're a fooler a faker a little heartbreaker
The slightest gal that I've ever known
Abuser a chooser but now you're the loser
Cause the heart that you broken was your own
I knew someday you'd meet someone who'd put you in your place
You started way out in the lead but finally lost the race
Your dream is a drama you used to be hot mama
I see your plans have backfired in your face

[guitar]

You're a fooler a faker a little heartbreaker
I realize the things are gettin' rough
You're a tricker a tracker and a little homeracker
You've been dealing from the bottom long enough
You seem to take a great delight and making teardrops fall
Until the picture you hung high came a tumbling from the wall

You're stander you're schemer you're little lovesick dreamer
I knew someday you'd get your motor stalled
Don't be a fooler a faker you little heartbreaker