

Hank Thompson, How Do You Feel

How do you feel you were taken for granted
It doesn't seem real that your new love has gone
You always thought that you had him enchanted
Now how do you feel since your new love has gone

When I think of your smile oh what mem'ries it brings
When we walk down the aisle that was only last spring
Now the autumn leaves fall and the tears from me steal
I want you that's all how do you feel
[steel]
When I think of your smile...
