

Hank Williams Jr., After All They Used To Belong

I guess I'll get a cab and go by in my house today
No I can't visit her or my son I'm supposed to stay away
But it won't hurt to bring back old memories
Cause after all they used to all belong to me
Now there's our car the one that I'm still payin' for
And in the front yard Lord I see my little boy
And there's his mother I hope she's doing fine
Oh Lord I'd give anything if they were all still mine
But they're not and I'm the one to blame
I should have known I'd never win when I played that cheating game
This other man holds my life and my son calls him daddy tonight
But how can I complain cause after all they used to all belong to me
How can I complain cause after all they used to all belong to me
