

Hank Williams Jr., Driven Away

Driven away day by day my love for you's turned to hate
The judge says it's my fault and I'll pay the cost
But God knows you're the one that's to blame

Adultery is the charge on these divorce papers before me
And it's true and that I won't try to deny
But Lord only knows the torture you've put me through
And I thought several times I'd surely lose my mind
Well I guess if I was suing you for divorce
Mental cruelty would be the charges I've make Cause you've been tryin' to run my life and my mind for years now
And I finally had all I can take
Yes it's true that I went to another woman
Cause a woman's love is something a man can't live without
I know cause I've been livin' without it for a long time now
And in my mind there's no doubt
That I was driven away...
