

Hank Williams Jr., There's Gotta Be Much More T

I was born long before I ever met you but I never lived until you came along
If you left me now I never could forget you and I don't know if I could go on Cause there's gotta be much more to life than you
Though I don't know just what more there can be Cause how can to be much more to life than you
When you are more than life itself to me

When I'm alone I see your face before me you're on my mind no matter what I do
You've made the world a thing of wonder for me
And I'd hate to think of living without you
Still there's gotta be much more...
When you are more than life itself to me
