

Hank Williams, Your Turn To Cry

YOUR TURN TO CRY
(Hank Williams - Hank Williams Jr.)
'49 Fred Rose Music

The day that we parted you laughed when I cried
You said you didn't care that your love had died
Now you say you're sorry that you said goodbye
But it's my turn to laugh and your turn to cry
Darling when you left me I thought my life was through Everything that I did reminded me of you
But now I've forgotten no more tears in my eyes
It's my turn to laugh and your turn to cry
My turn to laugh your turn to cry my love was true yours was a lie
But now I've forgotten no more tears in my eyes
It's my turn to laugh and your turn to cry
[steel]
My turn to laugh your turn to cry...
