

Hanna Pakarinen, Love's Run Over Me

love's run over me eighteen wheels and tons of over speed a broken heart is all what's left of me love stays and love leaves flying soul to soul it wanders free but this time love's run over me love has gone away leaving us with nothing more to say these two hearts belong to yesterday love has left us all emptiness has made my heaven fall since you are not here anymore and now i live my life in chains trying to save what still remains
love's run over me
love has run over me
forced me down on my knees hurting me somewhere deep
love has gone to war battlefield of hearts surround us all leaving wounds and scars to cry for love comes and love goes but for us it is not even close where it's gone only heaven knows
love has run over me
love's run over me
love's run over me
i thought it would never die but now love has left my eye this time it was just a lie
love's run over me
flying soul to soul it wanders free
but this time love's run over me
