

Hanover Saints, Faith and Scene

You say it can not be but you are standing next to me you say that being a Christian is an oxymoron to the scene

Well forgive me forgive me, the rule books never came, forgive me forgive me I was here before I had faith, forgive me forgive me the rule books never came,
I was here before I had faith and that you cannot change

I never hit you with the holy book , black and blue you do not look,
my foundation is faith and it will not be shook
